Product Labeling

Do all hearing aid-compatible handsets include labeling? Yes

Explain:

Do all hearing aid-compatible handsets that were tested under ANSI C63.19-2007, and that are capable of voice communication over any air interface or frequency band that does not have hearing aid compatibility technical standards under ANSI C63.19-2007, include the required language disclosing that the handset has not been rated for hearing aid compatibility with respect to such operation?

N/A

Explain:

Do all hearing aid-compatible handsets that were certified only under ANSI C63.19-2007, but that the manufacturer also tested and found not to meet hearing aid compatibility requirements under ANSI C63.19-2011 for one or more operations that are not covered under ANSI C63.19-2007, include language informing users by clear and effective means that the handset does not meet the relevant rating or ratings with respect to such operation(s)?

N/A

Explain:

Do all handsets that are capable of use for Voice over LTE or Wi-Fi Calling, and that were certified for inductive coupling capability under ANSI C63.19-2011 without being tested for inductive coupling capability over Voice over LTE or Wi-Fi Calling, include language disclosing that they were not tested with respect to this operation?

N/A

Explain:

Do all handsets that meet the criteria for an M3 rating by allowing the user to reduce the maximum power for GSM operation in the 1900 MHz band include the required disclosure?

Explain:

Public Website

Does your company maintain a public website describing all hearing aid-compatible models, the ratings of those models, and an explanation of the rating system? Service provider websites must include the levels of functionality that the service provider has defined, the level that each hearing aid-compatible model falls under, and an explanation of how the functionality of the handsets varies at the different levels. Yes

Explain:

Consumer Outreach

Describe consumer outreach efforts in the past 12 months: HP maintains an accessibility website at www.hp.com/accessibility, which includes information on our commitment to accessibility, product information about the accessibility features found in HP products and services, as well as a webform for customers to provide HP with feedback, comments or questions regarding the accessibility of products or solutions. HP Customer Support also provides a dedicated group of Agents in North America that provide phone and email support to customers with disabilities and age-related limitations. Over the past 12 months in particular, HP has collaborated with the Information Technology Industry Council (ITI) and Digital Europe (DE) Accessibility Committees, along with disability/advocacy groups representing people with disabilities, regarding topics that address EN 301 549, Section 508, Section 255 and the 21st Century Communications & Video Accessibility Act. HP staff also attended the CSUN and M-Enabling conferences.

Hearing Aid Testing

How many handset models were tested for hearing aid compatibility during the reporting period? 0
